3.1 Tourism Burnaby - Re: Sport Hosting Speaker: Chris Peters, Executive Director

Mr. Chris Peters, Executive Director, Tourism Burnaby, appeared before Council via Zoom, and provided an overview of Sport Burnaby.

Mr. Peters stated that sport hosting provides a variety of community benefits, which include raising the profile of the City, providing volunteer opportunities for residents, Provincial and Federal funding, and jobs.

Sport tourism drives visitation locally, nationally and internationally. In 2018, sport tourism generated $6.8 billion in national revenues, with the average visitor spending $420.

The speaker advised that Central Valley is one of only three North American locations that offers the diversity of sport venues – courts, fields, rinks, and everything in between. However, nationally Burnaby is ranked #19 overall, and #8 for cities of comparable size.

The objective of Sport Burnaby is to develop an inclusive Sport Hosting strategy for Burnaby, which provides the maximum benefit to citizens, user groups, stakeholders and the City, with the goal of becoming the best sport hosting community in British Columbia.

In conclusion, the speaker requested that City staff assist in the engagement process, and formally review and assess recommendations from their final report this fall.
