

15. Re: Historical Buildings

Council on May 28, 1973 requested that consideration be given to the identification of historical buildings in Burnaby. It was felt that such information would be useful as a guide when future acquisitions of such buildings are considered.

The Executive Director of the Century Park Museum Association in a recent letter to the Manager advises as follows:

"Following a meeting of the Executive of the Century Park Museum Association held on June 18, 1973, I am directed to advise you that this Association agrees to consider the preparation of a catalogue of buildings in the Municipality that are deemed to have historical significance.

No specific planning has yet been formulated, but the Association proposes to consider ways and means by which a catalogue, including descriptions and photographs of buildings deemed to have historical significance, can be compiled to assist in the consideration of preservations or acquisitions that may from time to time be recommended."

This is for the information of Council.
