

ITEM 5

MANAGER'S REPORT NO. 63

COUNCIL MEETING Sept. 30/74

Re: Burnaby Public Library

Following is a report from the Chief Librarian regarding reciprocal borrowing privileges with other lower mainland municipalities.

Burnaby and New Westminster adopted a reciprocal agreement in November, 1971. This has proven to be a truly reciprocal exchange of services in that approximately the same number of books are loaned on a reciprocal basis by each of the respective libraries, i.e., in 1973, Burnaby loaned slightly more than 20,000 books to residents from New Westminster, and New Westminster, on the other hand, loaned a similar number of books to persons residing in Burnaby.

On August 6, 1974, Council was advised that the Library Board had approved a reciprocal borrowing agreement with North Vancouver District Public Library.

A reciprocal agreement between Burnaby Public Library and the City of Vancouver Library is expected to become effective in April of next year.

This is for the information of Council.

* * * * *

TO: MUNICIPAL MANAGER

23 SEPTEMBER 1974

FROM: CHIEF LIBRARIAN

RE: BURNABY PUBLIC LIBRARY

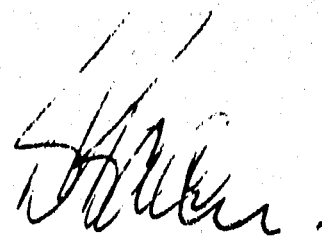

The Burnaby Public Library Board, at its regular meeting held 5 September 1974 gave formal approval that Burnaby Public Library extend its borrowing privileges to holders of valid library cards of the following libraries in a reciprocal agreement:

North Vancouver City Public Library

Port Moody Public Library

West Vancouver Public Library

This is for the information of Council.

CHIEF LIBRARIAN

mk