Strictly from a soils load bearing point of view (not for traffic needs at this time), it is important to get an early start on preloading the peat soils in this area so that the rate of residual settlements are brought down to a manageable magnitude over as long a period of time as can be reasonably established. Also, it now appears feasible to effect substantial savings in the cost of preloading and base preparation by utilizing surplus excavation and preload material from the Overpass Project. The timing for this is critical.

Funds are provided in the 1984 Capital Budget under Land Assembly and Development item code 70.

155,000
